JOHN A. JACKSON, CHIEF OF POLICE

MEDIA RELEASE 11.05.09

The Alamosa Police Dept. Animal Control would like to remind residents that the deer rutt is fast approaching. During this time the deer are mating, and bucks can become extremely aggressive towards people and other animals. You will also notice there are still several small fawns around town, it is best to stay away from them as the nearby mother could become aggressive to protect her young. If you come across an aggressive deer please do not approach it yourself, call CSP Dispatch at 589-5807 to report the incident.

In an attempt to reduce motor vehicle accidents with the deer population, we would also like to remind people to slow down during dusk and dawn, as these are the prime movement times for deer.

Sincerely;

Chief John A. Jackson
